

United Research World Prayer Focus

December 2001 - Gratitude

submitted by Lorraine McGovern

Dear Friends:

It seems that the honor of writing the World Prayer Focus this month has come around to me. I have been praying for guidance on what it is that I have to say about the world in general and a focus for prayer specifically. Like so many people these days, I have run the gamut of thoughts and feelings about the events of the past months. And, like all of you I have affirmed Light within all life on all levels and all dimensions throughout the planet. But, as the deadline drew near, I found that my primary focus was on Gratitude—on giving thanks...

Thank you God

- For the gift of Life.
- For the blessings of my family and friends.
- And, for showing me the value of learning through experience.

Thank you God

- For your Gift of Love. It is in this knowing that I affirm the Light and promise of every human being on our planet. The Creator is directing Life to Light.
- Thank you God for the awareness of our uniqueness — our diversity. I am in awe of the beautiful multi-colored quilt of life.

Thank you God

- For gentle revelations of clarity of who I AM.
- For the gift of Prayer that creates wholeness and healing.
- And for the awareness that Honor means having the Courage to take Responsibility and be accountable for my thoughts and deeds.

"Hear Oh Israel The Lord Thy God Is One"

Peace be with you.
